

About the Elbrus educational and scientific complex

The Elbrus educational and scientific complex (EESC) of the Kabardino-Balkarian State University (KBSU) is located in one of the most picturesque places of Russia - in the village of Elbrus, at an altitude of 1850 meters above sea level, in the middle of a pine forest. Here at the same time in good living conditions can rest about 200 people.

But this is not only a place of rest. The university is actively involved in the implementation of state policy in the field of environmental protection, the national project "Science" and state youth policy, so the complex includes educational and scientific, cultural and recreational blocks.

During the year there are about 30 major educational, scientific, cultural and public events: conferences, symposiums, student gatherings, health camps, plenary airs and exhibitions.

A unique cultural, ethnographic and medical centre is being formed on the basis of the EESC, which includes 7 new services for Elbrus: a cinema, event centre, digital library, ecological and ethnographic museum, active leisure and mountain tourism centre and a centre of mountain medicine.

The EESC includes: an assembly hall (200 seats), a digital training hall (50 seats), an expo hall, 4 training rooms, 3 recreational rooms, an environmental laboratory, Hermann Pashtov's creative studio, a sports and health center, a medical center, a canteen, a bar, a billiard room, a sauna, barbecue houses, a summer stage. The residential complex has 123 rooms of different classes: hostel, block x3, block x6, standard, suite.

Free Wi-Fi is available on site. The complex is guarded 24 hours a day.

For more information, as well as for booking rooms, you can contact the administrator of EUNK by phone from 8 to 21 hours: +7 (938) 913-38-88.